

New Dean of Seneca Business

Published 9/25/2021 by Michelle Nava

Congratulations Jeff McCarthy, new Dean of Seneca Business.

Jeff brings 12+ years of Seneca experience to his new position. In 2009, he served as an associate chair in the School of Accounting and Financial Services. Five years later, he was appointed Chair of Business in the Faculty of Continuing Education and Training (FCET), and since 2016, has served as the Dean of FCET.

In his new role, Jeff will continue to develop equitable, sustainable, industry-informed approaches to business and professional education.

Please view Marianne Marando's announcement on MyNews

New Dean of Seneca Business and School of Aviation realignment | MyNews | Seneca College

tags : seneca-business, seneca-business-news