About R&R Program

To enable Seneca Business's participation in the United Nations Global Compact initiative - Principles for Responsible Management Education (PRME), the Students Rewards & Recognition (R&R) Program was launched for Seneca Business students in Fall 2021. The R&R program is a way to signal to future employers, in a verifiable manner, the degree of sustainability knowledge and experience that a Seneca Business student has developed through their curricular and extracurricular activities. This is showcased through a tiered ranking system that is supported with certification; the rank names were developed in consultation with the Seneca Business Executive Team.
