

Creating a Content Folder

Published 10/31/2022 by Anh Lam

Folders help you organize content in your class. This article explains when to use folders, and how to create a folder.

Organizing Content: Folders vs Learning Modules

You can organize course content into folders, and Learning modules.

There are key similarities between folders and Learning modules:

- Both are containers that allow documents, links, assignments, and other types of content to be stored inside of them.
- Both permit two levels of nesting.

There are also key differences between folders and learning modules:

- Learning modules cannot be placed inside folders or other Learning modules.
- Folders can be placed inside modules and other folders.
- Learning modules provide students with on-screen arrows that allow them to move to the next or go back to previous items.

When To Use Folders vs Learning Modules

Folders: Use folders when the items contained in that folder do not need to be viewed sequentially (ex: a series of links to different resources).

Learning modules: Use learning modules when you want students to work through content in sequence, such as a week's learning materials.

How To Create A Folder

1. Select the plus icon (+) on the Course Content page.

2. Select Create from the drop-down. The Create Item panel is displayed.

3. Select Folder.

4. Select the default title to edit the name of the folder.

5. Select Hidden from students to change the visibility of the folder.

6. Select the Description text box to add a description. Note: Descriptions are limited to 750 characters and cannot be styled (i.e., bold, underlined, coloured text, etc).
