

Community of Practice

Version 45

Published 1/9/2023 by Joanna Crabtree Last updated 9/18/2024 3:22 PM by Joanna Crabtree

Fall 2024 Community of Practice Meeting Dates:

- Wednesday, October 9, 2024 11:30 am - 12:30 pm - click here to join us on Zoom
- Wednesday, November 6, 2024 11:30 am - 12:30 pm - click here to join us on Zoom

The SoTL Community of Practice (CoP) is about connecting Seneca faculty and staff who want to discuss problems of practice in our teaching and learning activities, and explore ways to address these topics through research. Additionally, the community is about sharing what we learn with one another. Everyone is welcome.

The CoP is a casual, drop-in format. It is organized by Maxine Britto, Laura Page and Joanna Crabtree, and is led by the members of the group and current SOTL researchers.

There will be two virtual gatherings every semester. Each one will be a mixture of structured and unstructured discussion.

Resources ...

The community of practice is a resource unto itself. Knowledge developed within the community of practice will be shared here.

The Use of Oral Assessments to Improve Academic Retention in Undergraduate Students

A SOTL Study completed by Seneca students: Emily Houston, Samantha Wallbank, and Joanne Warrington under the supervision of Professor Mark Tucci

SoTL Community News in Higher Education

SoTL Program at Durham College

Applying Education in a Complex World – Teaching and Learning Conference

Quality Teaching Culture Project

Council of Ontario Educational Developers