5 more days until Teaching & Learning Day Spring 2025 on Tuesday, April 29!

The theme for this in-person event is to Renew and Recharge your teaching through ideas, inspiration, and practical strategies:

- Allyson Miller, Director of the Academic Integrity Office at Toronto Metropolitan University, will deliver the keynote address, Pedagogical Innovation and Foundational Integrity in the AI Era.
- A Curriculum Integration (CI) Circuit will guide you through a workout of idea-generating exercises for integrating Truth & Reconciliation, Equity, Diversity, & Inclusion, Sustainability, and Human Skills into courses.
- Exciting and varied workshops from across Seneca will showcase your peers' achievements, research, and best practices. See the workshop descriptions and schedule on the event website.

We will also be offering two lunchtime activities; you can visit the Hospitality Lab to pick up a sweet treat and learn about the menu of services from the School of Hospitality & Tourism, available to all Senecans. Afterwards, you can renew your focus by participating in a mini Tai Chi session. Check out our event schedule for more details!

Get ready for a great day of in-person learning at Newnham Campus. Mark your calendars and register for Teaching & Learning Day Spring 2025 today!
