Seneca OER Examples

OERs developed by faculty at Seneca.

Faculty of Applied Science and Engineering Technology

- 3D Modelling for Game Content Creation – by Catherine Leung
- Data Structures and Algorithms – by Catherine Leung
- Introduction to Programming – IPC144 (diploma version) and BTP100 (degree version)
- Introduction to Object-Oriented Programming – OOP244 (diploma version) and BTP200 (degree version)
- Object-Oriented Software Development using C++ – OOP345 (diploma version) and BTP305 (degree version)
- Parallel Algorithms and Programming Techniques – GPU621 (diploma version) and DPS921 (degree version)
- Parallel Programming Fundamentals – GPU610 (diploma version) and DPS915 (degree version)

Web Programming Principles

- WEB222
- WEB322
- WEB422

Faculty of Communication, Art & Design

- Business Communications for Fashion – by Anna Cappuccitti

Seneca Business

- Professional Presentations – developed by Debi Tziatis and Jenn Peters, a collection of materials developed at Seneca as well as materials found freely online

- Introduction to Business – by Michael Wade

- Organizational Behaviour by Melissa Warner and Nadia Bedok

- Communication @ Work – by Tom Bartsiokas and Robin Potter

- Operations Management – diploma by Mary Drane

- Operations Management – degree by Hamid Faramarzi

- Economics – by Sandra Wellman

tags : course-design, examples-of-oers, explanes-of-oers-at-seneca, oers, open-educational-resources, seneca-examples, seneca-oers, teaching, teaching-and-learning, teaching-and-learning-centre