Hannah Sweet, Chair, School of Legal, Public and Office Administration

Seneca Business welcomes Hannah Sweet as the new Chair for the School of Legal, Public and Office Administration.

Hannah brings with her over sixteen years of experience at Seneca in a variety of leadership roles. She has been a professor and coordinator in the School of Legal, Public and Office Administration, an Associate Chair in the School of Business Management and Human Resources, a Team Lead on the i3 project, and a faculty member in the Teaching and Learning Centre.

Hannah brings to the position a passion for academic excellence and student success with a focus on teaching and learning research and educational technology.
