Laurel launched the first issue of the Academic Newsletter just over a year ago (on January 19, 2017). Since then, we have published five issues (including this one). All previous issues of the Academic Newsletters are now available on the website.

Every time I start planning the next issue of the Newsletter, I think, “This will be a short issue.” And then each issue grows in length and number of articles, all thanks to the incredible contributors.

If you’re interested in contributing to future issues, here is the publication schedule and deadlines for submissions:

Academic Newsletter	Deadline for Submissions
May 2018 issue	Friday, May 11, 2018
August 2018 issue	Friday, August 10, 2018
November 2018 issue	Friday, November 9, 2018
March 2019 issue	Friday, February 15, 2019
