Adobe Education Exchange

in the March 2019 issue

Want to learn more about Adobe programs? Visit the Adobe Education Exchange. Their Collaborative Courses are free self-paced courses, designed by educators, to help you integrate digital media into your curriculum. There are courses for beginner, intermediate, and advanced users on topics including video, audio, photography, design, and visual communication. The Teaching & Learning Centre has curated resources and examples specifically on Adobe Spark, Adobe Portfolio, and Adobe Photoshop: Adobe Creative Cloud at Seneca.

Reminder: all employees have access to the Adobe Creative Cloud. For more information, visit .

Read the article on the Academic Newsletter website.

View the March 2019 issue of the Academic Newsletter.

March 2019 issue

tags : educational-technology, educational-technology-tools, march-2019, teaching-and-learning, the-teaching-and-learning-centre