Professor Greg Staios and Dr. Frank Merante discussed the various ways Health Canada tracks and analyzes COVID-19 vaccine side-effects on CityNews on March 31, 2021.

Greg Staios and Frank Merante teach at the School of Biological Sciences and Applied Chemistry at Seneca College. Between them, they have decades of experience bringing new medical products through clinical trials.

The two say Health Canada's system has redundancies built in, aimed at ensuring no safety issue is missed.
